

MAKE YOUR HONEYMOON A HOTTIE-MOON

Congratulations, my little bride to be! Soon you will be walking down the aisle and joining in holy matrimony with the man of your dreams. But before you forget, let's talk about the most important things you need to prepare: You have the something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue right? Well, do you have something SPECIAL planned for the Honeymoon?

Huh?

OK, here's the scoop:

You know how weddings are planned to the very last drop?

The flowers, the invitations, the rubber chicken, the speeches. Every second, every color, every dance... It's all mapped out to the milli-second. And why do you do this? Because it's your special day. The day you will remember forever.

But you know what? The Honeymoon is the WEEK that's the first week of the rest of your lives. just the two of you. Together. And that should get some value to it too, don'tcha think?

So let's put a little thought into the Honeymoon besides where you're going to go and what you're going to wear the first night. You'll be setting the intimate, exciting tone of your married life!

Here are a few simple ideas:

1. No Repeat Offenders

Make a game out of trying something different every night of your vacation together. That way you'll be sure to keep creative juices (and OTHER JUICES...) flowing. The two of you can plot out some fun games you want to try. Just keep in mind you want to experience something new each night.

And while you're at it, make your rules ahead of the game. You don't want unwanted surprise to come up during the fun. So decide what are your limits, what makes you go "OOOOH!" and what makes you go "UGH" ahead of time. Let's not come home and already need a marriage counselor, ok?

2. Theme Your Wedding? Theme a Honeymoon Night!

Off to Hawaii for your honeymoon? Then maybe a little role playing of Tarzan and Jane is in order.... or play your favorite Brady Bunch sibling from the Hawaiian adventure where they find the Taboo tiki charm!

Going off to ski? Show up as a hot snow bunny wearing only your ski boots and ski cap while you enjoy handling his ski pole!

Hanging in Europe, maybe you can play out your favorite 007 Spy thriller. Who doesn't want a piece of Miss Octopussy, Or Austin Powers and You can be Allata Vagina! hee hee!

Try to find ways of incorporating your destination into your desires and vice versa... It will make those memories even fonder.

3. Naught Vows

You know those beautiful vows you shared with one another in front of your friends and family? Loving, cherishing, obeying and stuff? Well, these ain't those vows, darlin'!

Time to share new, naughty vows with each other, preferably while enjoying some act of Lovin'!

For instance: Say you decide your man some tender caressing... You can whisper a new set of vows you couldn't mention in front of Nana and Granpop.

Like how you promise to Handle and to Hold While Thicker and HarderTo his "Little Death" do you part for rest. (And I say LITTLE DEATH, because in French, the saying, Le petit mort, or little death, means orgasm...)

This will also help you guys have fun with a little naughty talk in the bedroom later or fun phone sex during those business trips.

4. Rally For Oral -

Just for one night, the mouths have it. No penetration. You can only show your love with oral sex. Enjoy the mutual mouthing admiration society by spending quality time with each others' pink parts.... up close and personal.

You both may find this to be a night you'll want to often incorporate into your normal routine. (Because you KNOW I do, wink, wink!)

5. Strangers in the Night

Ahhh, one of my favorites. There's just something fun about pretending to be strangers, meeting in a hotel bar and deciding to have wild passionate, animalistic sex with a stranger... who just happens to be the love of your life.

You stay in character and accidentally run into each other like two people alone for a night.... And have fun playing out where that may take you.

It may open you guys up for more fun roleplay for later.

(And you may find you'll be renting a hotel room every once and a while at home!)

6. Give That Bed A Rest -

That poor honeymoon bed may need a time out from all that humping, so make sure you set aside one night to try out different locations where you can have your way with each other.

I've always been a fan of those pretty bathroom counters in the fancy hotel rooms. Good height, plenty of mirrors, And someone else cleans them!

But hey, you can find a coconut to coco all over his nuts, or enjoy the view of the balcony while you enjoy each other.

7. Add Some Toys! –

Why not add our Newlywed “Tie the Knot” kit with blindfold and white silk ties, http://www.cleosboutique.com/view_item.php?id=192&

or maybe try out the disposable vibrating ring for vibrating pleasure for the both of you!

http://www.cleosboutique.com/view_item.php?id=137&

These toys take up very little space but will pack a sexy punch!

The bottom line is the only limit is your imagination. And while the pictures of your wedding will last a lifetime, the sexual variety you create on your honeymoon will allow your marriage and your sex life to evolve and get better over the years.

Happy Wedded and Bedded Bliss!